

Write for Us Sponsored Posts!

To discuss your ideas for contributing please send an email to netherlandsmark@proton.me

Please include in the subject line: guest post for [website]

And send us the article you'd like to post attached or in the email itself.

General Submission Guidelines

What topics can I write about?

We have no limit on which subject you can write about, however some websites retain the last call on accepting a guest post or not, they will all be read before posting by our editors.

What language can I write in?

We accept only posts in english, if you need a post in another language please email us first to discuss in which websites we could accept it in.

However you could write in english and include foreign anchor texts for your links, we do accept it that way.

Can I contribute an edit to an existing post on the site?

Yes you can, tell us which page and which piece of content you'd like to add or edit with your respective edit or addition including your link in that piece of content.

Use Original Content

The content you submit must be unique and not be posted anywhere else on the internet, we'll check with copyscape your entire article.

Be Free of Errors

Ensure your submission contains no typos or grammatical errors.

Length of Content

Your article must be between 1000 and 3000 words, please stick to this guidelines, any smaller or bigger article will be rejected.

Time it takes to publish

After approval the article takes 2-4 days to be published in your desired website, you'll be notified via email about the published status of your article.

Links

You can insert up to 3 outbound links in the body of your article.
